ASTIGMATISM.

What It Is, and How Corrected.

Astigmatism or Irregular Vision is one of the most common of all the refractive errors. It is due to the irregular curvature of the eye known as the Cornea. Of course no instrument is sufficient to correct it, but in the hands of a thoroughly efficient and competent eye specialist the ophthalmometer reveals the exact condition of the eye in a way that nothing else can. If your eyes need attention have DR. J. T.
JOHNSON put them under this wonderful instrument. Office hours 8:30 to 12:30; 2 to 6. 3024 S. Elm St.

MARTIN KELLY PARDONED.

Man Who Stole Money From West's Safe Gets Executive Clemency.

Governor Russell's pardon mill has given another Guilford prisoner his liberty. This time it is Martin Kelly, the white man who, as Telegram readers will remember, was convicted of the larceny of money from E. G. West when the latter was the proprietor of a saloon here. He was tried at the February term of court last year and sentenced to three years on the roads, having now served about half his time.

Kelly was at one time a clerk in West's bar and knew the combination to the safe. Having secured false keys to the rear door of the store and after gaining access, it was an easy matter to unlock the safe and take what money he wanted, but he never at any time stole more than a few dollars. Mr. West missed his cash from time to time and one night watched for the mysterious thief. His watch was successful and he shot at Kelly, the bullet going through his vest. Mr.
West then grappled with him and succeeded in delivering him to the police.

Get Your Seats in Time.

If you intend attending any of the entertainments at the Academy next week, do not imagine because you can, during the regular season, always get good seats, that you are going to be favored with the same favorable conditions during next (gala) week. With thousands of strangers in town the limited capacity of the Academy, will be tested every night; there is no doubt on this point. The management wish the citizens to be well accommodated, or to at least have had the matter brought to their attention. Enquiries have already come from several towns, asking where and when the reserved seats would be on sale. Or at least such has been the case in regard to both "Captain Dick" and "The Midnight Fire." Letters were received yesterday from three different points; one was for a party of fifteen. The others were for parties of from five to eleven. So the hint is not an advertising scheme, but is given with a view of bringing the matter before the citizens that they may understand the necessity in this instance, of being in time, if they expect to secure choice seats. The reserved seats for all performances of the week, will be on sale at J. S. Farriers' drug store Monday morning. Fifty cents has been agreed upon as the price of reserved seats, for every performance.

Pied Piper of Hamelin.

Interest in the Pied Piper is growing nightly and the music is getting sprightly.
The lovely duo by Hulda and Rudolph is as pretty as can be, and will make many a chap who hasn't ore, wish he had a sweetheart.
The choruses are full, and with the orchestral accompaniment, swell out grand.
The stage will be full of people and the spectacle will be magnificent.
Remember this is for the benefit of our "Orchestra" (the old original) and do not forget the date, Friday night, July 28th, at the academy of music. Tickets on sale at Farriers' drug store. Reserved seats 50c. General admission 35c.

Dr. Winston Here.

Dr. George T. Winston, ex-president of the University of Texas, and the new president of the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Raleigh passed through the city last night enroute to that city to enter upon his new duties. Much work is to be done in transferring the business of the institution to Dr. Winston's hands and he will remain in Raleigh until the opening of the college in September.
Dr. Winston has been spending a few days in Asheville, for recupera-tion. His family is there now and will remain for some time yet.

Decide to Organize.

At a meeting held in Wharton & McAllister's office last night by a few members of the Good Roads Club, it was decided to organize immediately after the speech by Prof. Holmes on Tuesday, August 1st, at 2 o'clock.
Let all interested in this matter be on hand.

Attention, Southsiders!

There will be a meeting of South-side Hose Co. No. 4, Wednesday night, July 28th, at 8:30 sharp. Of vital importance to every member.

day) night, at the Academy at 8 o'clock sharp. Every member is requested to be present.

A THOUSAND ON THE WAY.

More Troops to Aid in Dispersing the Strikers.

CITY PEACEFUL THIS MORNING.

Cleveland's Mayor Thinks the Force
Now Sufficient—The Cars Start Today on Schedule Time.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Cleveland, July 25—Another regiment is on the way here from Columbus to aid in dispersing the strikers.
Maj. Farley has been notified that the troops on the way number one thousand. They will arrive this afternoon.

The city this morning wears a peaceful aspect. The cars started on schedule time on all the various lines of the Big Consolidated system, and there was no interruption during the early hours beyond the usual obstruction and rubbish.

Riots and mob violence will be suppressed at any cost. The mayor hopes the increased force will be sufficient to quell any uprising. There is likely to be plenty of bloodshed if the roughs persist in their attempts to blow up cars.

Two men were received at the hospital this morning with bayonet wounds received from the soldiers at the car barns.

Cremation Postponed.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Dobbs Ferry, July 25—The arrangements made yesterday for the cremation of Col. Ingersoll's body tomorrow have been abandoned today out of deference to the uncontrollable grief of the widow and daughters, who still refuse to give up the body. The incineration has been postponed until Thursday.

Trouble at Chattanooga.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Chattanooga, July 25—The Chat-taanooga Electric street railway discharged five employees for being members of an employees' union which is forming here. All labor organizations have taken the matter up and a strike is expected at noon when the car lines will probably be at a standstill.

House Dynamited.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Texarkana, July 25—The home of Col. Hooks, of Hooks Station, was dynamited Sunday night and Col.
Hooks was killed. A negro, William Jackson, is believed to have committed the crime. Jackson dynamited a house in Clarksville, a week ago, and made his escape.

The Prince's Funeral.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

St. Petersburg, July 25—The funeral of Tzarvitch will take place tomorrow. A wreath has been sent by the French government. The silver wreath sent by President Loubet was today placed upon the coffin of the dead prince.

Killed While Resisting Arrest.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Macon, Ga., July 25—The Telegraph has a special from Lee-burg today saying that a negro, supposed to be one of the Safford ravers, was killed by citizens last night while resisting arrest.

Duty of the Cardinals.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Rome, July 25—The Pope has charged the commission of cardinals with the duty of studying the doctrines of christian socialism in order to prevent his being misled through an imperfect understanding of the question.

Arming for a Fight.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Paris, July 25—The Politique-Colonial says that Japan and Russia are arming themselves, and that a conflict between the two countries is possible with Corea as fighting ground.

When Greek Meets Greek.

At noon today down at the depot Policeman Jeffries was informed by one of the conductors that there was a Greek in the waiting room who could not speak a word of English. Mr. Jeffries was in a quandary as to what course to pursue when fortunately he caught sight of the genial face and emaciated form of Frank Morton. To him he told the situation. Mr. Morton at once went over to the Greek and in a few minutes' conversation told him about the arrival and departure of his train and also that there were some of his countrymen in Greensboro in the candy business. It was fortunate that such a cultured and accomplished linguist was at hand.

Knight of Honor.

The adjourned meeting of the Knights of Honor will meet in the K. of P. hall tonight. All members are requested to be present.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor
Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU
HIGH POINT, N. C., July 25.

With regret we learn that the condition of J. D. Mann, clerk at Geo. A.
Matton's drug store, who has been quite sick for some time, was considered worse yesterday. We hope that a change for the better will take place soon.

Miss Mabel Freeman, one of Arch-dale's bewitching young ladies, is visiting Miss Helen Snow, on South Main street.

Mrs. Shiplett and daughters, of Thomasville, were in the city yesterday with a view to locating here if a suitable house can be secured, which, we hear, is more than likely. We welcome this family to our city.

Misses Zelda Smith and Etta Mabry, of Thomasville, spent a few hours in the city last evening shopping.

The colored population of this city was much in evidence at the depot yesterday morning. A "cullud folks" excursion from Reidsville to Charlotte passed through and several of them from here got aboard.

Arch McIver, representing the Morning Post, Raleigh, who has been spending a day or two in our city, left on the southbound local yesterday.

Several of our baseball boys are getting in practice to participate in some of the games in Greensboro during gala week.

Miss Daisy Johnston, saleslady in the dry goods department of A. E.
Alexander & Co.'s store, is enjoining at Mt. Vernon Springs this week.

E. D. McCallum, of Asheville, and C. L. Chaffin, of Dunwallen, Fla., were here yesterday.

The watermelon feast which was to have been given on the lawn of Mrs.
S. Perry's yesterday evening has been postponed until the weather will permit. It is given by the young men of the town complimentary to the visiting young ladies and those who reside here.

Bob Ragan, of the High Point Hardware Co., who has been spending a few days at Mt. Vernon Springs, returned home last night. It is said that the matrimonial bee really buzzed in his ear while he was away.

The horse that pulls the drag of C.
E. Sicheloff, groceryman, ran away yesterday evening. The negro driver had a barrel of oil on the wagon and had placed the seat on top of this. As he neared the crossing the seat slipped out from under him, falling over the dash board and striking the driver, which made a leap, upsetting driver, barrel and wagon. The negro and horse sustained slight flesh wounds—the former almost turning "white" from excitement. The coupling pole broke and a bolt or two wrenched off. The "big" says he doesn't remember any thing about the runaway.

A. E. Barbee is improving rather slowly since his confinement. He is now suffering from the effects of satisfying a craving appetite with too much unwholesome food.

Rev. John R. Brooks, presiding elder of the Salisbury district, is here today in the interest of a book, "Scriptural Sanctification," of which he is the author.

Mrs. C. L. Sands and children, of Reidsville, are visiting the family of J. E. Thompson.

The party of which we made mention yesterday, left this morning about 10 o'clock. As they passed along the street all eyes were turned towards them and many wished they were taking the same kind of a trip—to the mountains in covered wagons.

Miss Bessie Smith, of Winston and Miss Kate Ragan, of Archdale, were in the city today.

Good Work, Chief; Keep It Up.

Chief Scott this morning found a poor, decrepit horse, on East Sycamore street, which, when he had become too feeble to be of service, had been turned out by his owner, to die.

The animal was recognized as one formerly driven to a public hack and was later identified as the property of one Press Cole, colored, who has presided over a public hack here for some time. The chief notified Press that unless he provided for the animal until it was lawfully disposed of, the city authorities would make provision for both horse and owner.

Press decided to be charitable.

MR. MCKINLEY'S DEPARTURE

Will Go With Mrs. McKinley and Party to Lake Champlain.

OTHER WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

Charles N. Vance in the City—South Carolinians Stirred Up Over a Postoffice Appointment.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, July 25—Preparations for the president's departure to Lake Champlain are being made. The president and Mrs. McKinley, accompanied by Postmaster General Smith, Miss Duncan, the president's niece,
Dr. and Mrs. Rixey, Clerk Cortelyou, and others, will leave Washington by special train over the Pennsylvania line Wednesday afternoon. The trip is to be taken for the benefit of Mrs.
McKinley, and also to allow the president himself to seek a little rest and recreation. At the special request of Mr. McKinley none of the newspaper men of Washington will accompany the party, as he wishes to be free from the intrusion of them.

During the president's stay at Lake Champlain, he will be visited, according to the present understanding by many persons of prominence. Among those who will probably go to the lake for a conference with the chief executive are Secretary-elect Root, Secretary Gage, Attorney General Griggs, and probably some other members of the cabinet. It is also announced that Vice President Hobart will go to Lake Champlain with his family for a stay of some time, probably going there shortly after the departure of the president from Washington.

President McKinley, according to reports coming from the white house is in excellent health, though in need of quiet and rest. Mrs. McKinley's health is said to be much better than she has been for some time, although she has not regained her strength entirely. As stated the trip is taken primarily for her benefit, and to enable her to fully recuperate. The future plans of the president for the summer have not been definitely determined.

Secretary-elect Root arrived in Washington from New York Monday, and is a guest at the white house. His visit is for the purpose of holding a conference with President McKinley preparatory to assuming his new duties at the war department. The new secretary is a very pleasant gentleman, and spoke pleasantly to the newspaper correspondents who had gathered in the ante-room of the president's office, but refused to be interviewed as to his future policy as secretary. Mr. Root will go from here to New York city, and later in the week will go to Lake Champlain, as announced in another paragraph, for a further conference with the president.

Mr. Root will not assume his new office until August 1st. It is expected that Secretary Alger will continue to exercise the duties of secretary until Mr. Root qualifies.

Charles N. Vance, of North Carolina, is in the city in connection with the statue to the late Senator Vance, which will be erected at Raleigh, the contract for which has been awarded to a Washington sculptor.

Mr. Vance stated at the Metropolitan the other day that the prospects are that the democrats will pass the constitutional amendment by a large majority. It is the belief of North Carolina democrats that the amendment will receive the support of a large number of white republicans of the state.

Politics in North Carolina is said to be very quiet just now, but it is expected that things will warm up considerable in a few months when the campaign for the adoption of the constitutional amendment opens.

Representative Jones, of the first Virginia district, was, as reported, in Washington Saturday. He has gone to Halifax Court House for the purpose of addressing a large mass meeting in the interest of Governor Tyler for the senate, which will be held tonight.

Representative Jones is a strong supporter of Governor Tyler, and predicted the latter's election to the senate while in Washington.

The site of the postoffice at Jackdaw, Stanly county, N. C., has been one-fourth of a mile northwest. Thomas L. Poplin has been commissioned postmaster.

South Carolina people coming to Washington say that the people of Florence are very much incensed over the recent appointment of J. E. Wilson as postmaster. A protest will in a few days be sent to the president and postoffice department, and an effort will be made to have the appointment rescinded. It is likely that the congressman from the district will come to Washington to present the protest.

PRESIDENT KREUGER RESIGNS.

It Is Said That He Is Deeply Implicated in the Dynamite Monopoly.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, July 25—A dispatch from Johannesburg says that President Kreuger had resigned on account of the revelations concerning the dynamite monopoly. If one-half of what the returned prisoners have related is true, that is not wonderful, as it is said that he is deeply implicated.

Capetown, July 25—The report of Kreuger's resignation is confirmed.
He sent a letter to Volksraad resigning the presidency in consequence of the refusal to give him a free hand in the dynamite monopoly. He attended the meeting yesterday and during the reading of the letter made every effort to keep the secret.

London, July 25—Reports as to the resignation of Kreuger are conflicting.
The best information has it that he has resigned conditionally. Volksraad, while maintaining opposition to Kreuger's views on the dynamite monopoly, assured him of the utmost confidence. It is believed he has withdrawn his resignation. Gen. Joubert, vice-president, and a majority of Volksraad favor cancellation of the monopoly. Kreuger supported it with the minority of Volksraad, which desires to buy out the company.

Rolling Stock.

Some time during last night a freight car ran away on the track near the platform of the Southern freight depot, and in its reckless flight, ran up the embankment at the end of the track and landed on the sidewalk. It was doubtless empty, as very little indenture was made on the pavement.
The puzzle of all pedestrians this morning, was how the car gained sufficient force in its short run to send it up the embankment.

TUESDAY, JULY 25, 1899.

There are probably many thousand opinions about Col. Robt. G. Ingersoll, his life, and his death; but the one who knows says nothing.

And is the south really getting in a whack at last? A recent issue of the New York Commercial says "the leading pig iron producers of the south have advanced prices 25 cents per ton." To this the Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer-Sun exclaims: "Thank goodness the south is able for once to fix prices on something."

Why not require all telegraph and telephone companies operating in Greensboro to paint their poles? It would not only add very much to the appearance of things, but it would prove, in the end, a good investment for the companies. And while on this subject, we will call attention to the fact that the recent setting of many of those large poles on South Elm street has left some ugly holes in the sidewalks. Parties doing this work should be required to leave the brick around the poles and relay the walks in good shape. Things of this kind have not heretofore received very close attention and as long as the authorities are lenient parties doing such work will be careless so far as the city's interest are concerned.

Good roads and good schools, a duty the present owes to future generations, is a text that it will do to preach from every day in the week and every week in the year. Permanent roads and thoroughly equipped schools constitute the best legacy we can leave to those who are to come after us. You are not to presume, however, that because this is so the present generation will derive no benefit from such improvements. The nearer perfect we leave such things the better, but while a state of perfection is being attained we can rejoice in its progress and find pleasure in the thought that we will leave something by which we will be remembered, aside from driving and walking, during our declining years, on solid roads in place of the mud in which we now oftentimes find ourselves stuck.

The body of the dead agnostic, Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, will not be buried, but will be taken to Fresh Pond tomorrow morning and cremated. The grief of his family amounts to a perfect frenzy, and they crouch around his bier at times refusing to believe him dead. We cannot refrain from noticing the difference in this and the scene around the death-couch of a man whose life has been spent in the service of God. There is a sacred sweetness about the manner in which the Christian relatives of a dead Christian bow to the will of the Supreme Ruler. They believe in the doctrine of a hereafter, the final preservation of the saints, and believing that they live in the hope of meeting their loved ones again in a beautiful land where, the Great Book says, there is no more sickness, nor sorrow, nor death. To have this satisfaction in the death-hour is worth the living of a Christian life.

The strike in Cleveland, Ohio, continues with unabated vigor. Such summer diversion is doubtless anything but pleasing to the capitalists owning the affected lines. This class of citizens can stand the financial strain; it is to be feared that it is to be feared by them. On the other hand the strikers and their families with limited means of support feel the inevitable pinch which means "Shoot Luke or give up the gun"—desperation or despair, either alternative means failure for their cause. This is one of the many economic problems that arise in populous and wealthy communities. North Carolina lacks many things in the way of wealth and education that the State of Ohio has, and she has no city so large and important as Cleveland, but the relations of employer and employed are never strained to the danger limit. The great law of compensation which adjusts all differences has dealt justly with the old North State.

How about the building of fire-traps in the city limits, or in the fire limits? Already the rate of insurance is too high, and with the erection of such shanties as are allowed to go up on our principal business streets, there is no immediate prospect of getting a better rate. We refer to such places as that used as a sort of restaurant on South Elm street opposite Vancannon's store. It is not only a fire-trap, but a nuisance. At all hours of the night can be heard the most weird and disturbing sounds coming therefrom, and people living near are compelled to close their windows, no matter how hot the weather, in order to sleep. Men and women, evidently of questionable character, congregate there at late hours, and the writer has been startled more than once on passing there at the yells and shrieks emanating therefrom. If there is no law to rid the city of such joints, let them at least be relegated to some back street. The main business street of a city is no place for such carryings-on.

"THOSE KEELYITES."
They are not the "Toughs" Which Some One Has Called Them.

Mr. Editor:—This writer was standing in front of one of Greensboro's business houses not long ago when a crowd of men passed. As they went by a man who was standing not far from the writer said to his companion: "There goes a crowd of Keelyites." "Are they?" said his friend; "they are an intelligent looking crowd of men, aren't they?" "Intelligent!" said the other; "they are more than likely half drunk—a tough looking set, I call them." "I can't agree with you," said his friend; "why should they be tough?" "Well, in the first place, think of them staying at the Keeley Institute! they must all be a set of drunkards and anything but respectable to stay there, and I maintain my statement, for I am not the only one of that opinion—that a Keelyite is a person one should have nothing to do with."

This writer went up the street thinking about what had been said and wondered which of the speakers voiced public opinion. Having always had the greatest respect for the man who had discovered a cure for inebriety, for it has been acknowledged long ago that drunkenness is a disease and should be treated as such, and why there should be any disgrace attached to a man taking treatment for same any more than for any other disease was a mystery to the writer.

So being possessed of a latent curiosity to find out if the term "tough" was advisedly used by the speaker, and also wishing to know something about the inner life, as it were, of such an institution, I formed the plan of finding an opportunity to spend some time there and judge personally as to what it was like.

At last the opportunity presented itself, and one beautiful summer afternoon found the writer strolling up the winding drive way leading to the entrance of that much discussed place. The grounds looked beautiful in the soft, dim light of evening, and a fresh brisk breeze stirred the tops of the stately trees that cluster so thickly about the place as though whispering one to the other of the coolness and freshness they were bestowing after the heat of the mid summer day. A beautiful lawn extends almost entirely around the institution, and garden chairs in abundance were scattered about, but the writer turned from it all and passed up the steps, right through the midst of a crowd of Keelyites who courteously arose, while one deferentially asked if he could be of any assistance. The writer thought "so these are the toughs," but an attendant appearing just then, he was escorted to the office, being led through a spacious hall very bright and attractive with its pictures and waving palms and large roomy arm chairs.

Seating himself in the office while waiting for the manager, the writer looked about the room, finding it nicely furnished with thick carpets on the floor, sofas and chairs strewn about, and tables loaded with the daily papers and latest magazines. Glancing across the hall, through an arch way, the writer looked into what he afterwards found to be the club room. A fine upright piano stood in one corner, a large, roomy divan filled another, while the walls were adorned with pretty water-color sketches.

Books and magazines were profusely scattered over the table in the center of the room, but his observations were here brought to an end by the manager making his appearance.

He was a very courteous man and soon instructed the writer in the work he would have to do.

Keeping his real object in the background he started in on his duties, grasping every opportunity to get information. When shown to his room on the second floor, he thought as he strolled down the carpeted corridor, "so far things are very pleasant indeed."

He found his room to be large and airy, the floor was oiled and a large Brussels rug covered the centre. A neat set of oak furniture and writing table and chair, decorated about gave a homelike touch to the whole, and the writer discovered later that the other rooms were furnished in a similar manner.

The supper bell ringing, he descended to the dining room which looked very pretty and cool with its dainty table linen and shining silver.

The bill of fare contained all the delicacies of the season, and the waiters moving in their quick noiseless fashion, proved themselves to be masters of their art.

An opportunity presenting itself for entering the kitchen he found everything clean and neat, his greatest impression being the cleanliness everywhere displayed.

A short acquaintance with the matron soon convinced him that it was she who kept the domestic wheel going in such a well oiled groove.

Peeping into the doctor's office where he was busy at work, the writer was invited to have a seat, while the doctor put away his prescriptions for the night, after which we began discussing the different patients.

The writer said he had heard they were full a greater part of the time.

The doctor laughed at that and said it was not true, and added that when the patients first came there it was impossible to stop their drinking without injury to them, but after a few days at the institute they stop entirely.

The writer then spoke of hearing the patients called "toughs" and that no respectable person should be seen with them, which led the doctor to tell something of each one's history.

The writer soon found that some of the patients were connected with the most prominent families in the state.

Lawyers, doctors, and business men of all kinds were there, each one intent on ridding himself of the disease so that he might return pure in mind and body to his anxious wife and children.

In conversing with them the writer found they were unanimous in voting the Keeley Institute a God-send to all mankind, for after a course of treatment they were filled with fresh vigor and strength to take up the battle of life; that whatever vicissitudes life might bring they would never forget the Keeley Institute and the good it had done them.

After listening to their conversations and inspecting the literature they read, the writer found them in their daily habits, morals and tastes to be perfect gentlemen, and felt well repaid for what trouble it had been to him in making his discoveries, to be able to publish to the world at large that the Keeley Institute is an institution that Greensboro can well be proud of.

The attendance is all that could be desired, the manager and president men of intelligence and education, both knowing their work thoroughly. The patients are men of culture and refinement instead of being the toughs the writer has heard them called.

"All honor," says the writer, "to the man who, realizing that liquor is getting the better part of his life, asserts his manhood and says 'I will be cured.'"

Such men are to be respected and the writer for one feels like shaking hands with every man who makes up his mind to master the demon (drink) instead of allowing it to master him. Long live the Keeley Institute and may it keep on in its good work.

Is It Right for an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?
From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say: good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this remedy in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

The Sapphire Country.

Along the cool southern slopes and table lands of the Blue Ridge mountains in Western North Carolina, at an average altitude of 3,000 feet, is a country full of delightful surprises to the tourist, sportsman and health-seeker. No other state contains so many clear, cold and wonderfully picturesque streams, so many grand water falls, such wide sweeping mountain views, and such beautiful lakes as the Sapphire Country, where until recently there was no provision made for the accommodation of visitors to this delightful section. Now, however, entertainment is offered on Lake Sapphire, Lake Fairfield, and on the summit of Mt. Toxaway, the view from the lodge here being the most extensive of any mountain point of vantage in North Carolina.

Parties desiring to visit this beautiful country can purchase round trip tickets to Brevard, N. C., via Hendersonville, where coaches convey you over good roads making the drive one of extreme pleasure. For full information call on any agent Southern Railway, or write R. L. Vernon, traveling passenger agent, Charlotte, N. C., or W. A. Turk, general passenger agent, Washington, D. C.

A Cheap Trip to the Pacific Coast

The National Educational Association meeting at Los Angeles, Cal., is the occasion for the Southern Railway to put on the remarkably cheap rate of One Fare for the Round Trip (plus $2.00 Association Membership fee). This, in connection with the new Pullman Tourist Sleeping Cars, operated over the Southern Railway and the Southern Pacific, a double berth in which costs only $7.00, renders possible the cheapest and most enjoyable trip of the season. A particularly pleasant feature of this trip is that the tickets are good going one way and returning another; i. e., going via New Orleans and returning through Salt Lake City and Colorado; or by the payment of $12.50 additional, the trip may be made returning through Portland, Ore.

Stop over privileges are allowed at El Paso or any point west thereof, on the going trip, and at any point west of Denver and Colorado Springs on the return trip. By this means passengers are afforded the opportunity of seeing the entire Pacific Coast. Side trips are arranged at nominal cost from Los Angeles and San Francisco to all points of interest in California. Further information may be obtained from any agent or representative of the Southern Railway, or from The stronger the light the more plainly is seen the perfection of our laundry work. We are not afraid of the searchlight. It will but add to the luster of the color. We are not surprised on color anywhere. This week we are giving our customers a nice "Domestic Finish." New Methods in Advertising.

Railway companies are adopting new and unique methods of advertising, as is demonstrated by the publication in the Four Track Series of the New York Central Road, of what is now becoming widely known and somewhat famous, "A Message to Garcia," by Elbert Hubbard, of the Philistine Magazine, which itself is a peculiar and interesting publication as relating to magazines of the present day.

This article is attracting widespread attention, and has been answered by a writer in "The Mirror," published at St. Louis, under date of June 15, 1899, entitled "A Message to Hubbard," which gives the other side of the American employee.

The Southern Railway, the leading Southern system, spreading from Washington to the Mississippi River, and gridironing the South, and the only line to "The Land of the Sky" section of western North Carolina, has also issued a publication out of the ordinary, in the shape of an attractive booklet entitled "A Night on Mount Mitchell," by Henry Litchfield West, one of the leading editorial and political writers of the Washington Post, a paper widely and favorably known for the ability displayed in its editorial and political columns. This story is a description of an ascension to the very top of Mount Mitchell, which is the highest mountain peak east of the Rocky Mountains, and 400 feet higher than Mount Washington, upon which has been erected a monument to Professor Mitchell, after whom the mountain was named.

The story is replete with interest and thrilling in detailing a trip which may be taken by any traveler for health or pleasure, and reminds one of Talmage's description of Lookout Mountain, when he stood upon its heights and delivered the following oration, which is reproduced for its graphic description of a location famous in American history:

"The carriage wound its way up, up, up. Standing there on the tip-top peak, I saw five states of the Union. Scenes stupendous and overwhelming. One almost is disposed to take off his hat in the presence of what seems to be the grandest prospect on this continent. There is Missionary Ridge, the beach against which the red billows of Federal and Confederate courage surged and broke. There are the blue mountains of North and South Carolina. With strain of vision there is Kentucky, there is Virginia. At our feet, Chattanooga and Chickamauga, the pronunciation of which proper names will thrill ages to come with thoughts of valor and desperation and agony. Looking each way, and any way, from the top of that mountain, earthworks, earthworks—the beautiful Tennessee winding through the valley, curling and coiling around, making letter S after letter S, as if that letter stood for shame that brothers should have gone to massacre with each other while God and nations looked on. I have stood on Mount Washington, and on the Sierra Nevada, and on the Alps, but I never saw so far as from the top of Lookout Mountain."

Copies of this booklet and other interesting publications on "The Land of the Sky" section and "Lookout Mountain" may be obtained from Mr. W. A. Turk, General Passenger Agent Southern Railway, Washington, D. C.

Sillicus—"Scribbler's new play is a melodrama, isn't it?" Cynicus—"Well, I should say that it had reached the point beyond the mellow state."

A diseased stomach surely undermines health. It dulls the brain, kills energy, destroys the nervous system, and predisposes to insanity and fatal diseases. All dyspeptic troubles are quickly cured by Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It has cured thousands of cases and is curing them every day. Its ingredients are such that it can't help curing. Howard Gardner.

The sausage manufacturer still appears to be doing his best to produce his worst.

Mr. A. Saunders, writing from Coconut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Laborers in considerable numbers are leaving the Pennsylvania coal regions for Pittsburg to work in the iron mills.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

Guzzler—"This fellow Hardup has better taste than I've ever given him credit for." Bartender—"Here, too. He don't get no champagne cocktails when he wants to stand the house off; he has to be satisfied with plain beer."

"What might have been"—if that little cough hadn't been neglected—is the sad reflection of thousands of consumptives. One Minute Cough Cure cures coughs and colds. Howard Gardner.

It's funny that the fellow who upholds drink is the one who puts it down most.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Grotton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, and lo! my lungs were cured. I have cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a free and healthy woman. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded."

The Sure La Grippe Cure.

There is no use suffering from this dreadful malady if you will only get the right remedy. You are having pain all through your body, your liver is out of order, have no appetite, no life or ambition, have a bad cold, in fact are completely used up. Electric Bitters is the only remedy that will give you prompt and sure relief. They act directly on your liver, stomach and kidneys, tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new being. They are guaranteed to cure or price refunded. For sale at C. E. Holton's drug store. Only 50c per bottle.

Most men are willing to admit that it is more blessed to give than to receive—advice.

The Automaton chess player is a wonderful thing. It plays a perfect game inside its limitations. But once outside the routine moves, the Automaton is a failure. Much of medical practice is as limited in its way as the moves of the Automaton at chess. No medical man can move with success outside his experience and training. For that reason the local doctor, often gives up as hopeless a case which is quite curable when greater skill and experience are brought to bear.

It is the so-called "incurable" and "hopeless" cases, which come in such numbers to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for treatment. Men and women with weak lungs, obstinate coughs, emaciated bodies and fevered cheeks have found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery the true elixir of life. "The blood is the life" and the "Discovery" by increasing the activity of the blood making glands, and restoring to healthy action the digestive and nutritive organs, places the entire system in a condition to throw off disease. There is no alcohol, opium, or other narcotic, in "Golden Medical Discovery."

Mr. Chas. Hunwick, of Lenox, Macomb Co., Mich., writes: "I have never felt better in my life than I do now. I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery right along. I think I am doing finely. I do not cough now and I can sleep like a school boy. I think I will have to change my mind about 'Patent Medicines' as I never had much faith in them; but you must know that I have been treated at two hospitals and by three doctors besides, and received no benefit, so I think your medicine is the only medicine for me."

A 1008 page book, free for the asking. You can get the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, the best medical book ever published, free, by sending stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper, or 31 stamps for cloth bound edition, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Herman Buchanan came in at noon from Charlotte.

M. W. Brown, of Hillsboro, spent yesterday afternoon and last night in the city.

Mr. Jesse Hedgpeth, of Fayetteville, is visiting his son, J. T. Hedgpeth, on Schenck street.

Today is fine weather for ducks. This conclusion was reached after an hour spent in intense thought.

Miss Irma Hunt, of Charlotte, arrived last evening to visit her brother, W. M. Hunt, on Walker avenue.

Misses Gilmer and Clair Mitchell, of Graham, are visiting Mrs. Will R. Pleasants, on Greene street, and other relatives here.

The Frowler called in a few minutes this morning to get out of the rain and said he was getting ready to write some more pieces for the paper.

The Guilford College Juniors and the West End baseball teams will cross bats on the Greensboro diamond on Monday, the 31st—the day before the tournament opens.

Mrs. E. B. Chesterman, of Richmond, Va., is the guest of her niece, Mrs. Will R. Pleasants, on Spring street, and her sister, Mrs. R. W. Hamlet, on Greene street.

Those who have been predicting wet weather for the tournament will now hope that the rain which commenced during last night and kept up most of the day presages dry weather for next week.

Mr. Gardner, a most worthy citizen, has moved from West Gaston street to one of T. A. Lyon's comfortable city houses on Summit avenue. Mr. Gardner is in the employ of the Cone Export & Commission Co.

Arrangements have been made for the Oxford Orphan Asylum class to appear here on Tuesday night, August 15. The entertainment, which will be given in the court house, will be looked forward to with pleasure, by all who have heard the orphans before.

The members of Centenary Epworth League at last night's meeting enjoyed having with them Starr Higgins, a former member. Mr. Higgins is an earnest and devout young man and his talk on "Keeping the Sabbath" was most interesting and instructive and the speaker's manner impressed all who heard him.

The city is besieged every afternoon by swallows, several million in number, it would seem from the show they make. The air is thick with them as far as you can see. Where do they come from and what do they want in Greensboro? Is it because everything else is coming this way? They evidently know a good thing when they see it.

Directors Meet.

A meeting of the directors of the North Carolina Underwriters' Association was held here yesterday afternoon for the purpose of making arrangements for the next meeting of the association which will be held in Asheville, August 22, 23 and 24. Messrs. Henry R. Bryan, Jr., and T. C. Rawles, of Asheville, directors of the association, were here, as was also President Alex. Webb, of Raleigh. The prospects are that insurance men will flock to Asheville during the meeting.

Thomas Rhoads, Centerfield, Ohio, writes: "I suffered from piles seven or eight years. No remedy gave me relief until DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, less than a box of which permanently cured me." Soothing, healing, perfectly harmless. Beware of counterfeits. Howard Gardner.

And the Rain Came In.

The force of hands at work on South Elm street a few days ago found it necessary to use blasting powder in removing some rock which they found too hard for the plow and pick. Several blasts were let off and some of the loose pieces of rock were hurled so high into the air that they came down on the roofs of houses near by. One man woke up last night while it was raining and distinctly heard the rain pouring into an upstairs room. Investigation this morning showed that one of the rocks had knocked a hole in the tin gutter on the roof through which the water found easy running to the interior of the building. We are authorized to say, however, that the street force needn't stop work on this account.

We are adding luster to our fame as price cutters. We are prosecuting this July reduction sale with greater vigor than ever before, as we were caught with a tremendous stock of shoes on hand in anticipation of a big spring business. Had a better trade than usual, but can not afford to carry any shoes over. Every pair of Men's, Women's, Misses', Children's and Boys' shoes in the house reduced.
